Internet Etiquette

Users of the Internet are expected to abide by the following generally accepted rules of internet etiquette. These include but are not limited to the following:

1. Be polite. Do not become abusive in messages to others.
2. Use appropriate language. Do not swear or use vulgarities or any other inappropriate language.
3. Do not reveal personal information such as addresses and telephone numbers.
4. Recognize that electronic mail (E-mail) is not private. People who operate the system have access to all mail. Messages relating to or in support of illegal activities may be reported to the authorities.
5. Do not use the Internet in any way that would disrupt its use by other users.
6. Consider all communications and information accessible via the Internet to be private property.
